List of Constitutional Bodies

Polity Notes: List of Constitutional Bodies

Election Commission

1. The Election Commission of India is an autonomous constitutional authority responsible for administering Union and State election processes in India.
2. The Election Commission was established in accordance with the Constitution on 25th January 1950.
3. Article 324 of the Constitution mentions about the election commission mentioned in part XV.
4. The institution of Election Commission presently consists of the Chief election commissioner and two other election commissioners, appointed by the President.
5. They hold office for a term of six years. The age of retirement is 65 years, whichever comes earlier.
6. The first election commissioner of India was Sukumar Sen.
7. Sunil Arora is the current and 23rd Chief Election Commissioner of India.
8. Election Commission HQ – New Delhi

Union Public Service Commission

1. Mentioned under articles 315 to 323 in Part XIV of the Constitution (Article 315 mentions about the public service commission for the union and the states).
2. Union Public Service Commission (UPSC) was established on 1 October 1926 as Public Service Commission, it was later reconstituted as Federal Public Service Commission by the Government of India Act 1935 and renamed as Union Public Service Commission after the independence.
3. The UPSC consists of a Chairman and other members appointed by the President of India.
4. The term is of six years or the retirement age is 65 years, whichever is earlier.
5. The chairman of UPSC (on ceasing to hold office) is not eligible for further employment in the Government of India or a state.
6. Current Chairman of UPSC – Arvind Saxena.
7. UPSC HQ – New Delhi

State Public Service Commission

1. The State Public Service Commission is also a constitutional body. There is a State Public Service Commission in every state.
 2. A State Public Service Commission consists of a chairman and other members appointed by the governor of the state.
 3. The term of office is 6 years or retirement age is 62 years, whichever is attained earlier. They offer their respective resignations to the governor.
 4. The chairman and members can be removed only by the President, though they're appointed by the Governor.
 5. The ground for removal is same as that of a chairman or a member of the UPSC.
- NOTE – There is a provision for the establishment of a Joint Public Service Commission (JPSC) for two or more states under the constitution.
6. A JPSC is/can be created by an act of parliament on the request of the respective states, unlike UPSC and SPSC which are constitutional bodies. Hence, a JPSC is a statutory body not a constitutional one.
 7. The chairman and members of a JPSC are appointed by the president. The term of office is again six years or the age of retirement is 62 years, whichever comes earlier.

Comptroller and Auditor General of India

1. The Constitution of India (Article 148) provides for an independent office of the Comptroller and Auditor General of India (CAG).
2. He is the head of the Indian Audit and Accounts Department.
3. He is the guardian of the public purse and controls the entire financial system of the country at both the levels—the Centre and the state.
4. This is the reason why Dr. B R Ambedkar said that the CAG shall be the most important Officer under the Constitution of India.
5. The CAG is appointed by the president of India by a warrant under his hand and seal.
6. He holds office for a period of six years or up to the age of 65 years, whichever is earlier.
7. He can be removed by the President either on the grounds of proven misbehaviour or incapacity. The method of removal is the same as that of a judge of the Supreme Court.
8. He is not entitled to hold any further employment after he retires or is removed, either at the centre or at the state government level.
9. The administrative expenses of the office of the CAG, including all salaries, allowances, and pensions of persons serving in that office are charged upon the Consolidated Fund of India. Thus, they are not subject to the vote of Parliament.

10. He audits the accounts related to all expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India, consolidated fund of each state and consolidated fund of each union territory having a Legislative Assembly.
11. He audits all expenditure from the Contingency Fund of India and the Public Account of India as well as the contingency fund of each state and the public account of each state.
12. He submits his audit reports relating to the accounts of the Centre to President, who shall, in turn, place them before both the Houses of Parliament (Article 151).
13. He submits his audit reports relating to the accounts of a state to the governor, who shall, in turn, place them before the state legislature (Article 151).
14. The President lays the reports submitted by CAG before both the Houses of Parliament. The Public Accounts Committee then scrutinizes them and reports the findings to the Parliament.

Attorney General of India

1. Mentioned in Article 76 of the Constitution of India.
2. Titled as the highest law officer in the country.
3. Attorney General of India is appointed by the President.
4. An AGI is one who is qualified to be appointed a judge of the Supreme Court.
5. The term is not fixed and he holds office during the pleasure of the President.
6. In the performance of his official duties, the Attorney General has the right of audience in all courts in the territory of India. Further, he has the right to speak and to take part in the proceedings of both the Houses of Parliament or their joint sitting and any committee of the Parliament of which he may be named a member, but without a right to vote. He enjoys all the privileges and immunities that are available to a Member of Parliament.
7. NOTE- In addition to the AG, there are other law officers of the Government of India. They are the solicitor general of India and additional solicitor general of India. They assist the AG in the fulfillment of his official responsibilities. It should be noted here that only the office of the AG is created by the Constitution. In other words, Article 76 does not mention about the solicitor general and additional solicitor general.
8. The first and the longest serving AGI of India was Motilal Chimanlal Setalvad.
9. The 15th and current Attorney General is K. K. Venugopal.

Advocate General of the State

1. The Constitution (Article 165) has provided for the office of the advocate general for the states. He is the highest law officer in the state. Thus, he corresponds to the Attorney General of India.
2. The advocate general is appointed by the governor.
3. He must be a person who is qualified to be appointed a judge of a high court.
