Title: For a reset: On U.S - China meeting in Alaska

The article at hand takes into account the ongoing meeting between the top diplomats between the US and China as the author explores various aspects related to it.

The author believes while the meeting gets going, setting the tone will be difficult. This meeting is coming in the wake of tensions that escalated during the Trump reign on various political and economic issues.

From its side, China is making sure to convince the US to reverse the policies of the Trump era because of various economic implications. But the author believes no major changes are on the cards in the status quo as of now.

However, both sides are prepared to engage in progressive talks, and it is a good sign for the rest of the world as well.

A tariff war between the world's two most powerful nations is not a sight to behold for the world economy and it would be better if this is avoided.
