

List of M.Tech. Colleges without GATE Score

List of M.Tech. Colleges without GATE Score: After completing a bachelor's degree, pursuing a specialized master's degree has become a popular way to further your knowledge in your field of interest. If you have a low GATE score, an M.Tech. without GATE may be an alternative for you.

Especially for M.Tech. courses in India, the GATE exam is important and widely accepted in technical institutions across the country. But for those who find themselves unable to appear for the exam due to various circumstances, there are viable options you can consider pursuing this program as many esteemed institutions employ different approaches to take candidates for M.Tech.

List of M.Tech. Colleges Without GATE 2022 Score

When you complete a bachelor's degree, choosing a specialized master's degree is a common way of getting to know your field of interest. If you are not willing to take a test, choosing M.Tech without GATE can be an option. GATE exams are essential and widely accepted in technical institutions globally, particularly in MTech courses in India.

However, there are viable options for people who cannot attend the exam due to various circumstances, as many esteemed institutions employ different approaches to take applicants for M.Tech.

Here is the list of colleges you can check out to take admission to M.Tech. without a GATE score:

1. Banaras Hindu University, Uttar Pradesh

The Banaras Hindu University in Varanasi is an Indian institution. Five institutions and 16 faculties make up the University and host more than 30,000 students. Founded in 1916, it is currently one of Asia's largest residential institutions.

For M.Tech. Admission:

- Candidates should have obtained a qualitative minimum of 60% / 6.0 CPI for admission to Banaras Hindu University for MTech 2021.

2. Pondicherry University, Puducherry

Pondicherry Central University was set up in 1985. Pondicherry University is in Puducherry. The University has a countenance from the UGC and has an "A" degree from the National Accreditation Assessed Council (NAAC).

For M.Tech. Admission:

- 10th class certificate with age proof
- 12th class or equivalent mark statement
- Degree/equivalent mark statement with minimum 55% marks
- Residence certificate for SC/ST
- Migrant/transfer certificate

3. IIT Delhi

(IIT Delhi) India Institute of Technology has been repeatedly regarded in India and worldwide as one of the best engineering institutions. In the QS World University Rankings in 2020, IIT Delhi ranked 182 internationally. The College ranked 2nd among engineering and 3rd overall, according to rankings of NIRF in 2019.

For M.Tech. Admission:

- BE/ B. Tech or MSc with a total of at least 60 percent in the appropriate subject

4. Aurora's Engineering College, Hyderabad

Aurora's Engineering College was the first engineering college to be set up on the outskirts of Hyderabad in 1998 by the Aurora Educational Society. They offer the education of undergraduate and postgraduate engineers in Telangana.

For M.Tech. Admission:

- Eligibility for the M.Tech. program is B. Tech/B.E
- Admission will be through PGECET counseling based on PGECET Rank.

5. Bapatla Engineering College, Guntur

The Bapatla Engineering College is an independent college and one of the Bapatla Education Society's Seven educational institutions. It belongs to the University of Acharya Nagarjuna and aims to give technical education in excellence since 1981.

For M.Tech. Admission:

- Graduate Degree in relevant subject
- Admission is upon AP-PGECET or GATE

6. Dr. D.Y. Patil College of Engineering, Pune

The College has a countenance by AICTE, New Delhi. The College is classified DTE Government Grade "A" College and is an accredited Engineering Institution in Maharashtra, India. With well-equipped labs, DYPCOE offers outstanding ambient infrastructure.

For M.Tech. Admission:

- B. Tech/B.E in a relevant subject, from state govt./MHRD, approved institution
- At least 50% aggregate marks in the subject

7. Aligarh Muslim University

Aligarh was connected with Calcutta University and then became a member of Allahabad in 1885. Since the very beginning, the University's doors have been open for people from all communities and countries worldwide. AMU covers over 467.6 hectares. The University is available to everyone regardless of faith, caste, gender, or religion. Among the 20 research universities in India, University ranks 8th for students. With 80 hostels along with 19 halls of residence, the University became most popular among students.

For M.Tech. Admission:

- Must have completed B. Tech with an average grade point of 60%
- The applicant will only get admission after clearing the entrance test from the University

8. University of Hyderabad

Admission to courses such as Postgraduate degrees in engineering, computer technology, science & art is available from the University of Hyderabad. The University provides about 150 courses, from doctorate to master's degrees, in various study programs. There are several foreign universities in cooperation with the institution.

For M.Tech. Admission:

- Candidates must have a minimum of 60% in Computer Science, Information Technology, and Artificial Intelligence. BE/B. Tech/MCA or First Class MCA/M.Sc in Computer Science/Information Sciences/Electronics
- Medical Biotechnology, Bioinformatics, Material Engineering, IC Technology, and Computational Technology: Candidates must hold a BE/B. Tech in the appropriate subject with a minimum of 55% overall.
- The candidate must qualify for the test organized by the University, along with an interview round.

9. Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi

India's top University Jawaharlal Nehru University is in New Delhi. The President of India awarded JNU the Best University Award in 2017. JNU New Delhi, a prominent and well-known institution with a wholly different academic framework, has been lauded in education and research for the past five decades. Jawaharlal Nehru University is committed to making all of its activities and services accessible to individuals with disabilities.

For M.Tech. Admission:

- Applicants must have their B. Tech degree from a recognized college with a minimum of 60% aggregate.
- They will be selected based on the Viva voice taken by the University

10. Annamacharya Institute of Technology and Science, Tirupati

The institute has 20 years of expertise in Engineering, Management, Education, and Pharmacy. AITS, Tirupati is an excellent place to hone one's skills and abilities while also nurturing them. The institution has the most incredible teaching staff, which provides students with 360-degree assistance at all times. It has been certified by the AICTE in New Delhi. It has a link with Anantapur's Jawaharlal Nehru Technical University.

For M.Tech. Admission:

- Applicant must have the B. Tech/B.E degree with a minimum 50% score
- The University department will decide after reviewing the application

Most universities will have the fundamental prerequisites of a graduate degree and the University's entrance test or viva-voce. Without a GATE score, one can apply to numerous connected colleges and universities. Don't be disheartened if you have a low score on the exam in any circumstance. There are several other possibilities and skill-based admissions that you might pursue.

The following articles are useful for preparing for the GATE Exam:

1. Expert exam day strategy to crack GATE Exam
2. Topper's strategy for GATE Exam Preparation
3. GATE 2022 Exam Syllabus
